PRIMARY STIRS LITTLE INTEREST AMONG VOTERS

With the stage all set for the grand elimination contest, next Tuesday's primary election has every prospect of being the dulliest on record.

The public mind is too full of the war to be more than passively interested and amused by the noise and gyrations of the politicians.

The whole primary campaign has been devoid of any new thrills or stunts. Not even the press agents have been able to furnish anything new. Were it not for the war their whole line of patter could have been picked up almost bodily from the old files of newspapers from previous campaigns, with names only changed.

The Governorship

What few signs of interest are shown center around the contests for governor and congressman. Republicans can select from J. O. Hayes, the San Jose editor with the Hughes whiskers, who claims to have the support of Senator Johnson; C. A. A. McGee of San Diego; Mayor James Rolph of San Francisco who will poll a large labor vote and some of the progressive element; Governor W. D. Stephens who has drawn to himself a curious mixture of what are ordinarily the irreconcilable stand-pat and progressive Republican support, whose supporters laud and opponents condemn on account of his war record; Judge Walter Bordwell, who will gain a certain amount of loyal support in the south especially but is not expected to be a real contender; and Charles M. Fickert, district attorney of San Francisco, who has the violent hatred of the labor element and the support of a group of special interests as might be expected.

Democrats can choose between Thomas Lee Woolwine and Francis J. Heney, with an added starter in Rolph. Both Heney and Woolwine claim the nomination with a good chance for election. Woolwine has both friends and enemies as a result of his career as district attorney and Heney is in the same fix as a result of his activity in the San Francisco graft prosecution and other proceedings, especially the investigation into the meat packers' trust. Woolwine questions Heney's democracy on account of his activity as a progressive; while Heney claims Woolwine refused to speak in behalf of President Wilson in 1916 for fear of endangering his own chances in a local non-partisan contest. Heney has the prestige of his appointment by President Wilson to the meat trust investigation.

Disregarding the claims of candidates and managers, many political observers declare their will be a close contest between Stephens and Rolph for the Republican nomination, and that Heney has the "edge" on the Democratic nomination.

For Congress

In the 9th Congressional District it is a repetition of the fight of two years ago, with a new list of names substituted in the contest against Congressman Randall for the Republican nomination. Mr. Randall is conceded the Prohibition and Democratic nominations.

That the re-election of Congressman Randall is desired by administration officials as well as by Speaker Clark can be authoritatively stated. It is also

MASONS TO ATTEND PICNIC SATURDAY

Eagle Rock Park to be Scene of Gathering Under Auspices of Veiled Prophets

Many Sierra Madre members of the Masonic fraternity are planning to attend the picnic of Jinnistan Grotto, the Los Angeles body of the Order of the Veiled Prophets. All Master Masons and their families are invited. The picnic will be held in Eagle Rock Park Saturday afternoon and evening.

The program calls for sports and games during the afternoon, beginning at two o'clock. About three o'clock a movie film of the crowd, with special comedy features provided by well known actors who are members of the Grotto, will be taken.

The basket picnic dinner will be in order about six, with dancing in the evening.

It is planned to have the Sierra Madre delegation leave together about 2:30 p.m. so as to arrive in time for the movie film.

MATERIALS RECEIVED FOR RED CROSS

A shipment of gauze and wool has been received this week at the Red Cross rooms and there is now material for a large number of workers to occupy their time and energy.

The gauze room at headquarters will be open on Monday. All the workers in this department are urged by Chairman Mackerras to resume this very important work.

stated on what seems to be reliable evidence that Mr. Shearer was induced to enter the Democratic primaries by Republican influences whose sole object is to defeat Randall.

In a sense it is a fight within a fight, with enough angles and cross-fire to make the poor voter's head swim. It may be described as "the field against Randall," and then of the four candidates who claim unadulterated Republicanism, it is "the field against Flowers."

It is a curious mixup. The attacks on Mr. Randall's patriotism being recognized by his friends as the political bunk of ambitious opponents, the attack is made on the basis of straight Republicanism. Then the Republican candidates begin to dig up each other's records. This shows that Mushet is the only one who has a simon-pure Republican record—and he is wet, with the record of being an officer of the notorious California Prosperity League. Even Mr. Flowers who claims all the virtues conceivable, was not so dry but that he agreed to go into an "elimination" conference and abide by the result, even though the chosen candidate might be wet.

Mr. Randall's attitude in the campaign has been a puzzle to the politicians. He has made no campaign and has had no campaign organization working for him. It would appear either that he thinks his chances are pretty good for getting the Republican nomination out of the scramble or that he does not much care whether he secures it or not, because he will face his real fight in November. For if he should win the Republican it would merely mean some other candidate would file as an independent and run against him. So he packs a grip in the midst of the campaign and goes off to Europe to see the war at close range and investigate the mail service of the army.

SERIES OF CONCERTS

BEGINS NEXT WEEK

First Appearance of Local Band Will be Thursday Evening

The Sierra Madre band has arranged to give a series of four concerts, the first to be next Thursday evening at the band stand. The expense involved is in part provided for by donations made by a number of public spirited citizens, but further help will be needed. No collection will be taken on the evening of the concert, so no one need stay away for fear of the hat being passed their way. But if they enjoy the concert enough to feel like contributing to the fund, their help will be extremely welcome.

BALLOON SCHOOL CLUB HOUSE TO OPEN

The new club house for the soldiers of the Balloon School will be opened on Saturday, August 31, under the auspices of the War Camp Community Service. In the afternoon there will be swimming contests and music and the canteen service will furnish refreshments. In the evening there will be music and dancing. The public is cordially invited. Mrs. Myron Hunt of Pasadena is in charge. Admission in the afternoon 50c, in the evening $1.00. Tickets are in charge of Mrs. L. L. Krebs.

When to Abandon Hope.

We quite agree with you that it is time for a lover to give up hope when the lady "cuts him dead" in the streets and her father threatens to kick him off the doorstep. These are discouragements which ought to check the ardor of the most sanguine man.—London Tit-Bits.

Learning by Experience.

Experience keeps a dear school, but fools will learn in no other, and scarce in that; for it is true, we may give advice, but we cannot give conduct. However, they that will not be counseled cannot be helped, and if you will not hear reason, she will surely rap your knuckles.—Franklin.

SRGT. STEINBERGER RETURNED TO U. S.

After several months of active service on the French front Sgt. Harvey Steinberger, Co. E, 117th Engineers, has been returned to the good old U.S.A., according to a telegram received by his father, L. E. Steinberger, Thursday morning. The message was brief and did not tell the reason for his return to this country, but suggested that he might be able to get leave for a visit home. It is commonly supposed that he was detailed for instruction duty at training camps, or possibly for training for a commission.

Paul Carter writes from an American Rest Camp "Somewhere in England, some time in July," saying he expected to be sent on to France within a very short time. The English scenery was very attractive to him. He says:

"Coming through England there was a lot of pretty scenery, the houses in the mountains and through the country look as if they had stood a thousand years. Intensive farming is an art here. They pile up their hay stacks as if they were houses, and make them so they will shed every drop of water.

In the larger towns the houses are often exactly the same for whole blocks. One could almost "dress up" the chimneys in any direction.

Everywhere one sees women and girls doing men's work.

The weather here is very different from that at home. There is rain almost every day.

Coming across the ocean it was fairly smooth all the way. Very few were sick. I was always hungry and wanted more when meal time came.

Land looked mighty good to us when we first sighted it. The English people gave us a hearty welcome as we came through the country."

Paul Carter went over with the June Replacement Detachment from Camp Kearney. His brother Robert, who enlisted a short time ago was assigned to the 17th Engineer Corps and assigned to Camp Humphries, Virginia.

Victor Hill of the 215th Aero Squadron, stationed at March Field, Riverside, has been promoted to the grade of Corporal Chauffeur.

Ralph B. Odwarker, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Odwarker, entered the service at Redondo and is now at Vancouver Barracks, Wash. He is a member of the 4th Spruce Squadron, on special duty in the Electrical shop.

LANGLEY-KELLOGG

Another of Sierra Madre's boys in the service took a bride on Wednesday when Miss Veva Langley of Ojai was married to Mr. Orval B. Kellogg who is at home on furlough from the Navy. The ceremony was performed in Los Angeles by Rev. Mr. Myers, with only members of the two families present.

The bride is a charming young woman, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Langley of Ojai, a graduate of the Alhambra high school, and a talented pianist. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Kellogg, and is attached to the U. S. S. Wisconsin. He will leave on Sunday morning to return to duty.

Chinese Study Agriculture.

There are 130 colleges in China devoted to the study of scientific agriculture.

PLANS TO MAKE OVER WATER SYSTEM

Sierra Madre will furnish water for the Aviation station of the Army Balloon school which has been established just below Live Oak Avenue near the extension of Canyon Avenue. At last night's meeting of the city trustees, Chairman Holabird of the water committee reported that he had been consulted by Trustee Taylor of Arcadia and officers of the Balloon School. They said the aviation station was far from any portion of the Arcadia water system and that water was needed at once for domestic use and in connection with the airplanes.

It was finally agreed that the city would furnish the water at regular rates, provided the army would provide a pipe line to connect with the city pipes at the nearest point, the water to be measured through a meter to be installed at the Sierra Madre city limits.

Up to State Board

Engineer Mackerras reported that in company with Mr. Hilscher, representing the state board of health, and Marshal Udell, an inspection had been made of sanitary conditions in the upper Little Santa Anita canyon and along the Mt. Wilson Trail. The report of Mr. Hilscher had been forwarded to the headquarters of the state board, and until it had been passed upon there Mr. Mackerras said he did not feel at liberty to speak of the probable findings.

The problems of proper sanitation at the Half-way House were gone into, as well as the proposal to have erected a number of convenience stations along the trail which might reduce the likelihood of contamination at stream crossings.

Col. Holabird insisted the whole problem of protecting the purity of the water supply must be settled promptly and right, or he would insist on the board accepting his resignation. Mr. Saunders was also insistent on getting action at the earliest possible time.

Olmstead Report

Engineer Mackerras said he had received a copy of the report of Engineer Olmstead on his survey of the Sierra Madre water system. The report contains twenty-one recommendations for alterations and improvements. Mr. Mackerras said he was making a study of the recommendations with a view to supplementary advice, and would like more time for consideration before reporting on the matter.

It is understood Mr. Olmstead offers plans for the development of more gravity water at comparatively small expense, for a number of minor changes designed to improve the working of the distributing system, and for a general plan for the future extension, largely by the gradual replacement of old pipe lines, which would ultimately provide a distributing and fire protection system in keeping with the growing needs of the city. The cost could be distributed over a period of years.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Services will be held as usual in the Congregational Church next Sunday morning. Sunday School meets at 9:45 and the morning worship at 11 o'clock. Rev. Robert M. Webster whose sermons have been so enlightening, will again occupy the pulpit.

WRIGHT'S GOOD RECORD

The Federated News of South Pasadena says:

"We feel impelled to remind the people of the Sixty-ninth District that it would be a grave mistake not to return Henry W. Wright to the Assembly. He is recognized throughout the state as one of its foremost legislators. The records show that during his first two terms he has served on the most important committees in that body. He has been twice delegated by the Legislature to visit and inspect the State institutions, of which there are more than thirty throughout this state. As ranking member, Mr. Wright is already prominently mentioned for Speaker at the next session. Surely these are honors of which any district might be proud."

As a member of the district Appeal Board for Southern California, by appointment of the President, Mr. Wright is devoting all his time and talent to the work of selecting an army, and his son is fighting in France.

"In the face of such a record, we believe the voters will make his re-election unanimous." adv.

A Pharmaceutical Corps for the U. S. Army

The Pharmacal Corps Bill by Congressman Edmonds, a Pharmacist of Philadelphia and an Addendum by Representative Hicks of New York, is now in the hands of the House Committee on Military Affairs at Washington for hearing in the very near future.

The Bill is entitled "An act to increase the efficiency of the Medical Department of the United States Army, to provide a Pharmaceutical Corps in that department and to improve the status and efficiency of the Pharmacists in the Army." The following are but a few of the reasons why such a bill should become a law:

(1). The Continental Armies all have a properly organized Pharmacia-pensing and compounding of medicines. In every state, the laws require that this work be done by only qualified pharmacists, who have had proper training and have passed an examination. Pharmacy in the Army IS NOT being practiced by pharmacists. OUR BOYS and YOUR BOYS in the Military Service should not be deprived of such protection. The safeguards which are thrown around the dispensing and compounding of drugs in their own state should NOT be ignored in the Army Camp. The Edmonds-Hicks Bill, if passed, will bring about this much-to-be-desired condition.

(2). The Medical Department of the Army will be made more efficient, and health conditions will be better if pharmaceutical duties are assigned only to those properly qualified to take care of them. The organization of a Pharmaceutical Corps, as proposed by the Edmonds-Hicks Bill will accomplish this end.

(3). The Continental Armies all have a properly organized Pharmaceutical Corps, and as our Army has been organized on the French system, the French system of taking care of pharmaceutical and sanitary work should also be adopted by creating a separate corps for this purpose as outlined in the Edmonds-Hicks Bill.

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

OF THE NINTH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

TO ELECT A REPUBLICAN AS YOUR REPRESENTATIVE IN CONGRESS YOU MUST CONCENTRATE YOUR VOTES ON ONE CANDIDATE.

Unfortunately there are four Republican candidates seeking the nomination in addition to the Prohibition Party candidate who is seeking an endorsement on the Republican ticket.

Why not concentrate on the only candidate that has any chance of receiving the same Radical Dry votes as the present Prohibition-Democrat incumbent?

Other good Republicans (Dry Republicans too) have been unable to swing the Dry Vote in this District. It will be the same old story both at the Primary in August and at the General Election in November unless you concentrate your votes on

SAMUEL W. ODELL, THE "DRY" REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

He is the logical candidate for the reason that the district is overwhelmingly Republican and "DRY."

REASONS

1. PATRIOTISM. The first requisite of any candidate is that he shall be 100 per cent patriotic and American. But patriotism should not be made a mere vehicle for political push, nor should any candidate spend large sums of money in hiring halls, bands, and in advertising, when all others are lending to Uncle Sam or giving to Red Cross or other war charities. His first plank is support of the government and of the Army and Navy until a complete victorious peace shall have been won.

2. PROHIBITION. Next in importance is prohibition of the liquor traffic. No backward step on this.

Prohibition has become popular, especially in the Ninth District. All candidates now assert that they are for it.

Mr. Odell has proven his Prohibition principles by his acts. Other candidates may now claim to favor Prohibition but the voices of none of them were heard either on platform in the Ninth District or in the press talking or writing for California Dry or for National Prohibition until this Congressional Campaign opened.

What of the California Dry Campaign in 1914?
Mr. Odell was President of the California Dry Federation, giving his time for months in office and on platform without pecuniary compensation.

What of the California Dry Campaign in 1916?
Again Mr. Odell as Chairman of the Campaign Federation Southern Division for the Dry work gave months of time without pecuniary remuneration.

What of the Dry Campaign of 1918?

At the Fresno convention of the United Temperance Forces in June, Mr. Odell urged not only a campaign for Ratification of the Sheppard Amendment to the Constitution of the United States providing National Prohibition but also that a Bone-Dry measure be placed on the ballot in California.

What were the other candidates doing for California Dry?
Not a word was heard from any of them and so far as the Dry Records show not a dollar was given by them for the California Dry Campaign, but, on the contrary, one of them has been Secretary of the California Protective Association which fought the Drys to a finish, and the others were attending to their private affairs.

One of them is now being supported in his Congressional race by the biggest "Wet" newspaper in Southern California which fought the "Drys" to a finish in all of those campaigns.

"By Their Works Ye Shall Know Them."

3. RE-UNITED REPUBLICANS. In his first speech before the County Central Committee, Mr. Odell spoke for a union of all elements of the Republican Party, in accordance with the suggestions of the National Republican Committee and particularly its chairman, Mr. Ha's. Great reforms have come to stay. The re-united Republican Party will be true party of progress. The social conditions of advancing civilization demand intelligent and sympathetic consideration of all law-makers.

4. LABOR AND CAPITAL. In his youth Mr. Odell was a stonemason. Three of his brothers are stonemasons and plasterers. He worked his way through academy and college by teaching school. He is therefore a sympathetic friend of the laboring men and believes in their right to organize for the protection and promotion of their interests, and that there should be the fullest co-operation between labor and capital. All differences should be settled by arbitration. The Republican Party has been the best friend of labor, protecting it by tariffs from competition with cheap labor of other countries.

5. TARIFF. He is for a tariff that will protect our fruits and agricultural products, our factories, and American business projects.

6. SUFFRAGE. He has always been for equal suffrage and equal rights for men and women without regard to condition or wealth.

7. HARBOR AND FLOOD CONTROL. Our great Los Angeles harbor should be promoted by every legitimate means. He is heartily in favor of the flood control projects and voted and worked for the bonds.

8. DISTRICT NEEDS. If elected he will give heed to the wishes of the people in the various communities, consulting with and being advised by them.

9. GENERAL. He is for preparedness as the best means of preserving peace; against child labor and sweatshops; for the imposition of the burdens of taxation upon incomes and estates; and in agreement generally with the doctrines of Republicanism.

10. EDUCATED IN LAW. Mr. Odell is a college graduate, holding the degree of LL. B., has practiced law in all State and Federal Courts for thirty years; is a Pension Attorney, has been City Attorney of two cities, a law-lecturer in a business college and is thus a practical man of affairs.

SAMUEL W. ODELL

Candidate for Congress Answers "The Times" Question

(Note—The Times, after asking the question, refused to print this answer.)

Pasadena, Cal., August 16, 1918.

EDITOR THE LOS ANGELES TIMES,

Los Angeles, Cal.

Dear Sir:—
Your editorial of August 13th entitled "Randall's Sardonic Smile," after giving your opinion of the apparent strength of Mr. Flowers as a candidate for Representative in Congress on the Republican ticket, closes with the question: "Do you, Mr. Mushet and Mr. Reagan, do you Mr. Odell, desire to play into Randall's hand?"

As this question is in your paper, it demands an answer, and in all fairness demands that you print the answer, as I shall also in other papers. It is a fair question. Of course, the answer is "No." My further answer is that it is impossible for Mr. Flowers to defeat Mr. Randall.

My reason for this statement are as follows: With all other true Republicans, I am an enthusiastic supporter of the Allied cause and anxious to win the war soon in order to save thousands of American lives, including those of my own two sons who are in the service. To accomplish that end, we must not send to Congress anyone who might hinder that desirable result. While I might criticize the methods pursued by Mr. Flowers in holding mass meetings announced as patriotic meetings, at which he gives his Chautauqua address, I am far and beyond that concerned about the effect his election would have upon allied harmony and the winning of the war.

First, Mr. Flowers came to us publishing a letter of recommendation from Arthur H. Geisler, late State Chairman of the Republican Party. It appears from newspapers that he was removed from that position May 15th last, and denounced as a Pro-German. Second, Mr. Flowers gave at Sierra Madre in this county, and other points in the United States, an address on Japan, bitterly denouncing the country as a menace to the United States. It is reported on good authority that the United States government stopped this address. He also wrote a book on the same subject. On August 12, 1918, a Japanese newspaper representative, engaged in publicity work in this country, J. G. Kasai, spoke before the City Club of Los Angeles, and denounced the book as a part of the German propaganda designed to destroy the harmony between the Allies. Those who heard him were astounded. Third, your own book editor commented on this book when it appeared, and described Mr. Flowers as an alarmist.

We must not endanger our relations with Japan by sending to Washington any man who might destroy the harmony between Japan and this country. Japan has a mighty army. I hope that the Allies will determine to let loose that valiant army on the Hun's eastern front at once; it would shorten the war, and save thousands of American lives. It is simple will not do to send anyone to Congress who has bitterly estranged the Japanese people from him by his works. For such reasons, Mr. Flowers would not be able to win the election in November, even if he had the nomination. You also state that Mr. Flowers has been selected by Republicans to make the race against Randall. The fact is that 75 per cent of the leading Republicans of the District had signed written endorsements of myself for this race before Mr. Flowers was selected by you. I have offered repeatedly to leave the selection of a candidate to impartial committees, and I have challenged Mr. Flowers to joint discussion in the District at which I might say these things to his face. All these propositions have been rejected, and we must go before the people and leave the burden of defeating the Republican Party, if it is, defeated, upon your shoulders and his, where it belongs.

Sincerely yours,
S. W. ODELL.

Clean Government League Endorses Odell

The Clean Government League of Los Angeles County has endorsed a long list of candidates for office and among others Samuel W. Odell for Congress. This league was organized some years ago in Los Angeles for the purpose of lending its influence to the selection for office men of clean character, favorable to the reform of social conditions and against graft and fraud in politics. The endorsement is the more appreciated because it was entirely unsolicited.

Christian Endeavor Societies, Through the Citizenship and Temperance Department, Endorse Mr. Odell for Congress.

Along with a list of other candidates the Citizenship and Temperance Department of the Los Angeles County Union of Christian Endeavor Societies has endorsed Mr. Odell. These societies worked with him in the great Dry Campaigns in California in 1914 and 1916 and they know his works as well as words.

AUGUST 27 is the day to vote.

SAMUEL W. ODELL is the man for whom to vote.

TO THE VOTERS OF SIERRA MADRE

On next Tuesday you will vote for a congressman from this district. After first winning the war, the greatest problem confronting the District is flood control.

I wish to impress upon you that the cost of permanently and effectually controlling these floods is a burden too great for the tax payers of this District to take upon themselves. It is the unquestionable duty of the Federal government to aid very materially for the conservation and storage of the floods in the mountains.

The $4,450,000 flood bonds which this District voted, will not do much more work than $2,000,000 would have done when they were voted. I can do much more good for flood control and conservation in congress than I can here in the District.

For four years I have been compiling national and foreign data relating to floods and flood control, and I know I am better equipped to do you a great service in congress than any other candidate. For four years you have been observing my work and my conduct. No hours have been too long, no Saturday afternoons or Sundays have been too precious to give up to your work. I am asking you and all other friends who have aided me in flood control matters and in the carrying of our bond election to give me your vote next Tuesday.

I do not think there is a voter in the district who will question my ability to put things through when I attempt to do so. It was very easy for me to get from the State Legislature $250,000, which is part of the promised $1,000,000 from the State to the State to the Flood Control District. Nor was it difficult for me to go to Washington and secure the release of $2,250,000 of our bonds, after other prominent men had failed, and it must be

MONTAVILLE FLOWERS

The attempt of Mr. Flowers' opponents to confuse voters by making false accusations against him has had the effect of rallying all Republican forces behind this staunch American.

The strength of Mr. Flowers lies in the fact that he is strong in every nook of the great District. He is not merely strong in spots, he is strong everywhere. He is not merely strong with a few classes but with all classes.

The petty insinuation that he worked against the Republican party in 1912 is malicious and contemptible. Mr. Flowers has been a Republican all his life. He donated his services to the Republican National Committee for Taft and Hughes. "But how about 1912?" he is asked. Mr. Flowers has no apology to make. In 1912 he was selected as head of the speakers' bureau and campaigned the country in the interest of that great American patriot and Republican leader, Theodore Roosevelt. "If it is a crime to have worked for Col. Roosevelt," said Mr. Flowers in a recent address, "let my enemies make the most of it." But his enemies carefully refrain from telling the facts. They attempt to cast discredit on him by asking in an accusing manner, "What were you doing in 1912?"

Probably other equally malicious untruths will be sprung too late for Mr. Flowers to make denial. You may be sure they are untrue.

These un-American tactics on the part of candidates condemn them as unfit for service in Washington where great questions of moral justice must be dealt with. We are fighting Germany on moral issues. Do you want a clean, powerful, honorable man in Congress to represent you, or do you want to entrust the national destiny to small political tricksters?

The answer will be given on election day. The Ninth District is aroused. Montaville Flowers will be nominated by an overwhelming vote.

Etiquette of Fish Feast.

In the Samoan Islands, when a fish feast is held, the piece de resistance must be divided up in accordance with a rigid and unvarying etiquette. The heads are assigned to the tribal orators, who are of the high nobility. The flesh just behind the gills is set apart for guests whom the host of the occasion desires to honor. The pectoral fins (a particular delicacy) go to the king. The cuts across the spine just about the pectorals (the very parts we should think most desirable) are distributed among the common people. For the chiefs the tail and belly parts are reserved.

Length of Lobsters.

Whatever may be the excellent intent of the bill filed in the Massachusetts legislature reducing the length of lobsters that may be legally taken from 9 to 8 inches, the measure might well be entitled a bill to further the extermination of the lobster. The lobster is rapidly disappearing, partly, at any rate, because young and immature specimens are permitted by law to be caught. The present 9 inches in this state is shorter than the Maine law allows—and that is none too long.—Boston Post.

Discipline.

Know you not that our business here is a warfare, and one must watch, and one go out as a spy, and one must fight? You neglect to do the bidding of the commander, and complain when he hath laid somewhat rougher than common upon you, and you mark not what, so far as in you lies, you are making the army to become, so that in all copy you, none will dig a trench, none will cast up a rampart, none will watch, none will run any risk, but each will appear worthless for warfare.—Epictetus.

Be Cheerful.

We ought to be as cheerful as we can, if only because to be happy ourselves is a most effective contribution to the happiness of others.—Sir John Lubbock.

Have you made good your pledge to buy War Savings Stamps in July? Uncle Sam is depending on you for that money.

ON THE FUNNY SIDE

At a Disadvantage.

"My friend," said the philosopher, "my motto is, 'Stay on the sunny side of the street.'"
"I've tried that," replied the pessimist, "but it won't work."
"Why not?"
"The minute I brighten up people who know me as a man under a cloud think that's an opportune time to strike me for a loan."

A Departed Treasure.

"Was your boy Josh much of a help to you around the farm?"
"Yes," replied Farmer Cornstossel. "I didn't realize how much of a help he was. He didn't do much work. But he could play the Jewsharp an' tell riddles an' keep the farmhands entertained so that sometimes they'd stay for days at a time."

Too Busy Knitting.

"I proposed to Miss Peacher last night."
"Did she accept you?"
"She said, 'Yes,' in an absent-minded way, but I'm afraid that isn't final."
"Why not?"
"She was knitting at the time. I don't believe she understood what I asked her."

Less Trouble.

"My wife hates to answer the door-bell Sunday afternoon when she's comfortable in a kimono."
"Mine, too. But she says she'd rather take the trouble to dress than to wear herself out guessing around the circle of her friends trying to figure out who rang."

The Work Hater.

"This idea of an age limit is all right," said Plodding Pete. "But it stops too quick."
"What do you mean?"
"There's nothin' to look forward to. A man soon gets too old to fight, but he's never too old to work."

LATER THE BETTER.

Hubby—Hurry, dear, or we shall be too late for church.
Wife—We can't be too late when I'm wearing this new dress and hat.

Word Wasting.

Oh, conversation doth enhance
The idleness where danger lies;
Perhaps here is another chance
For people to economize.

Its Class.

"What is that list hanging up there?"
"It is a catalogue of articles not subject to tariff duty."
"Then it ought to be the free list suspended."

A Good Reason.

"Why don't you accept him if he has offered to have his life insured in your favor?"
"Because if he was a good risk for the insurance company, he'd be a bad one for me."

Just Reward.

Weary Willie—Dat's the worst pie I ever tasted.
Mrs. Jones—Wait just a minute and I'll give you a dollar. That pie was baked by my husband's mother.

Crowded Out.

Mrs. Flathunter—Are there any rats or mice in this apartment?
Mr. Cubicle, the Agent—Only mice. We can't supply space for rats at less than $150 a month.

The Proper Time.

"About what time was it when the witness was giving his evidence that the prisoner lost countenance?"
"I suppose it was when his face fell."

Wrong Again.

McGonigle—I think she's a brazen dame, Louis!
Hanlon—You're wrong, Ed; she wcn't even ride in a stripped roadster.

FINE JOB PRINTING — THE NEWS PRINTERY

Speaker Clark Say:--

"I hope no one in California will be deceived by opponents of Mr. Randall in the coming election, who claim he has voted against all war measures. He earnestly and consistently supported the war program of the present organization of the House of Representatives."

Will you believe an authority like Speaker Clark.

Or do you prefer to believe mendacious politicians who attempt to destroy another man's character that they may boost themselves into the position he now occupies?

Mr. Randall has faithfully represented the preponderant sentiment of the 9th District at every stage of the war. If he were not satisfactory to the administration, Speaker Clark would not indorse him.
